CURATED DESTINATION STRATEGY

A customer-facing Home, Auto & Lifestyle destination

TPK Park Section 2 is positioned as the customer-facing heart of TPK Park, bringing together showroom, retail, service and lifestyle operators within a managed commercial environment.

While Home & Living remains a strong anchor, the broader tenant curation strategy is built around three complementary pillars.

Home & Living

Showrooms and services for renovation, furnishing, interiors, home improvement and related living needs.

Auto Hub

Customer-facing automotive concepts, accessories, car care, mobility products and related support services.

Lifestyle

F&B, wellness, education, studios, specialist services and concepts that support regular visits.

Leasing positioning

The aim is not to lease units randomly, but to build a complementary tenant mix where different operators support one another through customer traffic, visibility and convenience.

PREFERRED TENANT PROFILE

Suitable for customer-facing businesses across three pillars

TPK Park welcomes tenants that strengthen the overall destination value of the precinct. Priority is given to businesses with showroom, retail, service, display, consultation or other customer-facing elements.

Home & Living

Furniture, bedding, kitchens, wardrobes, curtains, blinds, tiles, sanitaryware, lighting, smart-home products, renovation studios, interior design firms, building materials and related home improvement concepts.

Auto Hub

Automotive accessories, car-care products, detailing and coating enquiry centres, EV-related concepts, mobility lifestyle products and customer-facing automotive support services.

Lifestyle

Cafes, dessert bars, bakeries, casual dining, wellness, fitness, studios, academies, clinics, specialist services and other destination concepts that attract regular visits.

Use Positioning Note

Pure office use, back-end warehousing and non-customer-facing operations are not the preferred positioning unless they include a meaningful showroom, service or customer engagement component.

WHY THESE SHOPLOTS WORK

A managed shoplot environment built around visibility, access and customer convenience

The Section 2 shoplots are designed to support customer-facing businesses that benefit from drive-up access, showroom frontage, convenient parking and a growing destination cluster.

Street-front visibility

Units front Jalan TPK 2/8 with good visibility and easy customer identification.

Parking convenience

Parking is currently free of charge, with ample bays for customers and staff.

Single-owner management

Landlord control supports clearer standards for signage, facade and tenant mix.

Drive-up access

Customers can arrive directly by car, supporting showroom, retail and service visits.

Showroom clustering

A growing concentration of showrooms and service-related businesses helps create a destination effect.

Flexible 2-storey format

Ground floor can support retail / showroom use, while first floor can support office, display or consultation functions.

HOME, AUTO & LIFESTYLE ECOSYSTEM

Located within TPK Park's growing destination cluster

TPK Park is a privately managed industrial and commercial precinct where the original developer remains a major long-term owner with an active role in estate direction, tenant mix and place-making.

The Section 2 shoplots benefit from a growing concentration of showrooms, home improvement brands, automotive-related uses, F&B and service businesses, creating a supportive environment for customer-facing tenants.
